POULTRY
Arkansas Polytechnic College was created by the General Assembly of Arkansas State Legislature. The bill changing the Second District Agricultural School into a College was introduced by State Senator Robert Bailey and passed as an emergency act, thereby upon the signature of the governor, after passage in both the houses and senate, it became effective. The college is indebted to its efficient Board of Trustees, Faculty, acting president, student body, Senator and Representatives and the united support of the Russellville people in attaining its present position and prestige.
Wit and Humor

Harold Crum (looking over plumbing fixtures): "Do you mind demonstrating this bath tub?"

Lillie Watkins (working in plumbing shop): "SIR."

Miss Norris: "Junior, I hear that you have twins at your house?"
Junior: "Yeh, but keep it quiet. Mamma says the neighbors exaggerate everything."

"I'm not the only bird that crows," says the Father (who has called on his son at the A. P. C.) "So this is what you are spending your time and my money for is it?"

Ruel Strickland (hugging Newell Mc.) "No, father, I get this for nothing."

Alicia Oldham: "Why did you close your eyes when you kissed me?"
Russell Clark: "Because I though I was in heaven—and who ever heard of a red-headed angel?"

"I may be the only one to have long ears, but there's many a in this school, and they don't bray either," said the mule.

Clyde Magness: "Pardon me, Professor Dean. Last night your daughter accepted my proposal of marriage. I have called to see if there is any insanity in your family."

Prof.: "There must be."

Virgie: "I hear fatty likes only brunettes."
Sybil: "So they say. I'm dying to meet him."

"I'm not the only member of the College who keeps late hours," said the

Mr. White: "Yeh, I had a beard like yours once, and when I realized how it made me look, I cut it off, B'gosh."

Coach: "Well, I had a face like yours once and when I realized that I couldn't cut it off I grew this beard, by heck."

Miss Halbrook: "Is it dangerous to drive with one hand?"

Dr. Cain: "Rather, more than one fellow has run into the church doing it."
