"Is the new English Prof. stiff?"
"Stiff! He raises the devil if you have a period upside down."

I—"I don't know how many times he kissed me."
II—"What! With it happening right under your nose!"

"You're stringing me," said the bean to the cook.

Some people think they are literary because they use a pencil on their eyebrows.

TO '27
A woodpecker pecked on a freshman’s head,
And settled down to drill;
He worked away for half a day,
And then he broke his bill.

"There’s the guy I’m laying for," said the hen as the farmer crossed the barnyard.

Prof. White—Can anyone name a liquid that does not freeze?

Before time for the party some of the girls had gathered in the parlor, conversing on topics nearest their hearts. “Oh, girls,” said Dorothy. “I know a new charm to tell when one loves you.”

“What is it?” queried the chorus.

“Take five or six chestnuts, name each after some man you know, and put them on the stove. The first one that pops is the one that loves you.”

Bertha, toying with a new diamond, “I know a much better way. Select one man, place him on the sofa, and sit close to him, with a dim light. If he doesn’t pop its time to change the man on the sofa.”

After dinner when all the guests had returned to the parlor there were not enough seats to accommodate all and the small brother of Mary Scott Reinhardt was sitting in Testob Horn’s lap. After a while, the boy looked up and asked, “Eschol, am I as heavy as Mary Scott?”

THE CUE
Ann B. —Weren’t you shocked when Otho gave you lingerie for Christmas? Annie—I tried to be.

“Man is a tyrant,” said Mrs. McElroy to a group of friends, “Isn’t he, Oral?”

“Why it all depends my dear, upon—”

“Is he or is he not?” she asked as she fixed her eyes upon him.

“He is”—from O. H.

Pauline Edwards, for the first time saw a cat carrying her kitten by the nape of the neck. “You ain’t fit to be a mother,” she cried scathingly. “You ain’t hardly fit to be a father.”
