ARKANSAS GAZETTE
INDEX

1975

Compiled

Russellville, Arkansas
Indexing of the Arkansas Gazette was initiated at the Library of Arkansas Polytechnic College in September 1964 because of a need for such a service for the use of our students and faculty. The indexing is done daily, with entries typed on cards and entered in the index files. At the end of the calendar year, the cards are edited and typed in manuscript form.

All of the members of the Library have been of assistance to me in the preparation of the 1975 edition. Mr. William A. Vaughn, librarian, has generously provided all needed materials to make the work easier and has always been encouraging in my efforts. Mrs. Wilma (Fields) Labahn and Mrs. Miriam Cook have assisted me in establishing subject headings. Mrs. Virginia Stumbaugh has been responsible for typing the daily entries and much of the finished manuscript. Mrs. Bettie Dickerson is responsible for copying the manuscript for distribution to our subscribers. Mrs. Mary Frazier handles the details of orders and shipping. Miss Joyce McCain deserves special thanks for seeing that a copy of the Arkansas Gazette is on my desk each morning.

All of the library staff have my thanks for spotting errors in the card file and bringing them to my attention; they are responsible for none of the errors which, no doubt, are in the finished index.

HOW TO USE THE ARKANSAS GAZETTE INDEX

HEADINGS: Entries are made under subjects, personal names and organizations. Specific subjects have been used as much as possible, with cross references from more general headings.

ALPHABETIZATION: Subject entries are arranged alphabetically, word-by-word. Abbreviations are entered alphabetically as though they were considered a word as written. Names beginning with "Mac" and "Mc" are arranged as spelled.

Citations are arranged chronologically for practically all entries.

SUBDIVISIONS: Entries are subdivided whenever the amount of material or the nature of the entry permits. Subdivisions are arranged alphabetically regardless of type of entry. Subheadings are underlined to make them easier to locate.

ENTRIES: The index is concerned primarily with materials about Arkansas people, events and places. Materials not fitting this category are omitted unless they are deemed to be materials which may not be indexed by such other indexing services as The New York Times, but which experience has shown will likely be of continuing interest to students of Arkansas. A news story or feature is seldom entered under more than one heading, but cross-references are used to lead the user to the proper entry. In order to get more nearly complete retrieval of materials on a subject, it is necessary to follow through on all cross-references under each subject.

CROSS-REFERENCES: Cross-references are arranged in alphabetical order preceding the entries under the main subject heading. Thus, cross-references precede sub-divisions under that subject.

BOOKREVIEWS: Book reviews are entered under the subject, Books. Reviews are confined to publications by Arkansas authors or those with Arkansas setting or subject matter.

This article appeared in the Arkansas Gazette on July 2, and is found on page 5 of Section A in column 1.
Neither the subject under which articles are entered nor the wording of the entries should be interpreted as factual statements about the person or event being indexed. These headings are merely aids to location of the articles, and the newspaper should always be consulted for the story as it appeared in print.

Johnson and Montgomery Counties fail to raise assessment to required level. Johnson County school officials warned that funds will be cut off because of low assessment. A bill approving a one-year grace period for under-assessed counties is passed by Senate. Bill in General Assembly seeks notification by mail before property is sold for non-payment of improvement district assessments. Assessors in Saline and Lawrence Counties involved in lawsuits on not taxing items, use of manual.

Table shows assessment by categories for each county; six counties below legal minimum. Opinion from Attorney General backs ACORN position on equalization, group says. State Representative sees damage from ruling in Lawrence County case. June meeting of Equalization Board was apparently illegal. Board can rely on tax assessor for validation figures, Lee Munson tentatively rules. June meeting of Equalization Board was apparently illegal. Board can rely on tax assessor for validation figures, Lee Munson tentatively rules. Board reduces assessment on downtown Little Rock parcel; turmoil predicted. Attorney General's opinion sought on use of state assessment manual.

Pulaski County, Ark. (con't) cides it can change assessments. Equalization Board Chairman Russell L. McLean resigns. McClain discloses work as assessor before tax review. ACORN submits 4 questions on county tax equalization. Equalization Board told committees are to be public; one board member says he fears for his safety at meetings.

CRIMINAL Law

Arkansas (con't)

Revisions in proposed new criminal code would clean up existing laws on common crimes. A new class set up called 'violations'; punishable by fine. Proposed new criminal code has section on Inchoate Offenses. Furnishing arms, weapons to minors would be crime under proposed new criminal code. Gun law changes in criminal code revision bill come under attack in House. House Judiciary Committee votes to return sentencing to jury; disputed gun provision in proposed code deleted. Controversial arms measure surfaces again in House. House panel gives 'do pass' to revision of criminal code. Robbery conviction, five year term for Jethro Baker affirmed by state Supreme Court; contention that remarks of Judge Kirby were prejudicial are rejected.

CRIMINAL Procedure

Arkansas (con't)

Arkansas Supreme Court rules that misdemeanor conviction without benefit of counsel cannot serve as sole basis for revoking suspension of prison sentence for a more serious charge. Lineup cited in Arkansas Supreme Court reversal of conviction of John M. Southerland. Pulaski County Bar insists that Arkansas Supreme Court act on proposed new procedural criminal code prepared by Criminal Code Revision Commission. Searcy lawyer Ed Bethune defends delay in approval of procedural code. Arkansas Supreme Court adopts new rules setting procedures in criminal cases.
