Foreword

We, in enclosing a living year within the covers of this book, wish to perpetuate your happy, meaningful reminiscences of Aggie. There may have been mistakes—profit by them; there have been varied lessons—heed them; there are pleasant memories—cherish them. If then this book, in its condensed form, can bring to you memories of one of the never-to-be-forgotten years of your school life; that it is the greatest friend of progress and happiness; it will justify the labor expended in its production and we trust will be an inseparable friend and a treasure invaluable.
Dedication

We, the Seniors of 1923, dedicate this volume of Agricola to Hugh Critz. A man of high ideals, and a fine influence among the students; a man who has many friends and admirers the country over; a man of untiring efforts and sound policies; a leader by nature as well as by profession; a man loved by all who know him.
Our Alma Mater

Far above a golden valley
  Glorious to behold and view,
Stands our wondrous, noble AGGIE,
  A prize, towering toward the blue.

It's a symbol of a wide and wondrous region;
  Naught its virgin beauty mars,
Where the valley mottled, is strewn with blossoms
  As the sky is strewn with stars;
Where the air so keen and bracing
  Gives to your life a joy and zest,
Makes the thoughts leap and tingle,
  In the soul, known as knowledge's quest.

And I know within our AGGIE,
  'Neath its dome—worn and renown,
There are hearts with hope a-tingle,
  There's AGGIE faith that will not down.
Though she may meet with misfortune,
  Fighting is her mode of rest,
For she stands for civilization
  And no conquerers can her infest.

So when from her ties that bind you
  You at last shall break away,
Leave unpleasant visions behind you,
  Surely you will when casting away.
When you've chosen a craft for voyaging,
  Love or adventure as your quest,
Always use your AGGIE dowerage
  To guide the conquest of your zest.

Earl Coates
Denning, Arkansas

Lee's Debating Society '21 and '22, Arko-agrian '23, Baseball '22 and '23, Track '22 and '23, and Agricola Field Staff '23.

Earl was noted for his aptness and should be a success at whatever he should try.

"A life-long evening with batting practice I tried to hit the pill, but my slamming was nigh a vision of one."

L. W. Phillips
Jasper, Arkansas

Basketball '23

This was his first year at Aggie and we would commend him for anything he should undertake.

"A sail, Aho! the burning decks and water barren—
I do athirst—not a dream, maybe."

Sam H. Russell
Cass, Arkansas

Member of Agricola Field Staff '23.

This is his first year and he has set an example that will lead anyone to success. He has stood on the topmost round of the ladder of average throughout the year.

"A path of rugged hue I climb, and subdue."
Burl (Curley) Webb
Cabin Creek, Arkansas

Football '22-'23, Track '22-'23, Basketball '22-'23.
Curley's stay with Aggie was both pleasant and profitable, and many friends will miss his "blond top".
"Undisputed blond-topped king of Aggiedom."

Hilda Clark
Mena, Arkansas

Though she is the smallest in the class is not to say that she has not accomplished as much. Hilda has left many friends at Aggie.
"I wonder if it is a Rose?"

Fred Hill
Pine Bluff, Arkansas

A first year Aggie man, but he's proved to be of sterling value to the school. Many will be the number that claims "Rip" as a friend.
"Always interested in everything and smiles at ——— (?)."
Clarence Griffin
Russellville, Arkansas
Track '22 and '23, Basketball '22 and '23, Lee's Debating Society '22, and Agricola Staff '23.
He's a hustler—not a rustler, and we will miss his Ford at Aggie next year.
“A steady drop wears away the mighty stone.”

Myrtle McIlroy
Cass, Arkansas
Member of Arko-agrian Society and Dramatic Club.
O. H.'s sister. This is her first year and she has made good in all of her work.
“Life is sighing, sweetly flowing a friend to gently be.”

Arch Coates
Springdale, Arkansas
Agri. Club '23, Lee's Debating Society '20, Periclean '23, and Agricola Field Staff '23.
If you are looking for a worth while man—don't pass him by.
“A city of steeples rare and lights of incessant glare.”
Elmer Hamm
Bass, Arkansas

Elmer has no peers and has not any servants—for he serves.
"A fading light in the East has been dispersed."

Newell McGuire
Baker's Creek, Arkansas

Dramatic Club '21-'22, (Second) Basketball '23, Lee's Debating Society '21-'22, Reading Contest '22, and Arko-agrian '23.

Newell is a friend of all the Senior Class, and a wreath of joy.
"Unbroken shall thy clouds of smiles assail."

Gillespie Critz
Russellville, Arkansas

Galnapers '22, Lee's Debating Society '20-'21-'22, Periclean Society '23, Agricola Field Staff '23.

"Dago" was Old Aggie's keeper and dog-buyer of our class. He was a Galnapier favorite and Put's sister's, too. Doing was his by-word and accomplishment his farewell.

"And to Pluto break the news I'm there—but look out."
Norman Whaley
Little Rock, Arkansas

Track Team '22 and '23, Lee's Literary Society '22, Declamation Contest '22 and '23, and Arko-agrian Society '23.

Norman is a force of action, and if you should pick for a winner and doer, choose him, for he represented Aggie in its Annual Debate in '22.

"Let's go, call the signals, boys!"

Ruth Shoptaw
Russellville, Arkansas

Ruth is musically talented, she has a smile for everyone and always is polite.

"To have friends is to be one."

Otho Clark
Mena, Arkansas

Lee's Literary Society '21-'22, Arko-agrian '23, and Agriculture Club '23.

Otho is the smallest boy in the Senior Class, but this fact does not mean he is not at the top, a worker with a smile.

"Life is short, so am I."
Holivey Smith
Jasper, Arkansas

This is Holivey's first year, and from the impression that he made, he should make a mark in the world. He's able, he's proficient, he's willing, and he always tackles a job with a smile.

"Think twice before you speak and then don't say it."

Imogene West
Dover, Arkansas

Lee's Debating Society '20, Basketball '23, Glee Club '23 and Arko-agrian Society '23.
Imogene is worthy of any school, and there has not been any one else eclipsed her.

"Curly's pal, and—'Yes, he's curly-headed, but I like him'."

Edward Ramey

Lee's Debating Society '21-'22, Track '22-'23, Declamation Contest '22-'23, Arko-agrian Society '23, Agricola Staff '23, and Sophomore President '21-'22.
He's willing to do it with a smile.

"If he ever falls in love, great will be the fall thereof."
Raymond Fortner
Russellville, Arkansas
  Raymond is Ada Mae's brother, and a smile will introduce him to you.
  "Beauty and wisdom don't go together—I'll take beauty."

Katherine Booe
DeVall's Bluff, Arkansas
  She is an all-around athlete and has many fine musical talents. By her personality and pep she leaves Aggie a debtor to her.
  "I always like and like—but my like is small."

G. W. (Hootch) Ham
Bass, Arkansas
  G. W. has always been a star student and an all-around man. He is one of the ablest students that Aggie has produced.
  "Wisdom and beauty all commingled."
Ralph Robertson
Pottsville, Arkansas

Field Staff of the Agricola '23, Baseball '23, Track '23, and a physics genius.
Ralph is a success for he drives a FORD.
"Ralph never studies, never worries and makes good everywhere."

Beulah Thompson
Russellville, Arkansas

Secretary and Treasurer Senior Class, Agricola Staff '23, Lee's Debating Society '22, Dramatic Club, and Arko-agrian Society.
She is one of the most enthusiastic of all Aggies. A pep meeting is not complete without her yells.
"Sweet and low, sweet and low, blow, blow me a sweater again."

O. H. McIlroy
Russellville, Arkansas

Member of the '21 and '22 Football team, Track '22-'23, Basketball '22, Junior Class President '22, Lee's Literary Society, Arko-agrian Society, Senior Class President '23, Editor-in-Chief Agricola '23, Declamation Contest '22 and '23, and a married man.
Mac has been a busy man this year, and his unselfishness and squareness will win for him anywhere.
"Married, Girls—I'm sorry."
Ewing Ward
“He’s From Stone County”
Member of the Stock Judging Team ’21-’22, Field Staff of the Agricola ’23, Arko-agrian Society ’23, Lee’s Debating Society ’22.
Ewing is an ex-servicer in many things, and leaves Aggie an A-1 Aggie. If you are looking for a man to do the impossible—try him.
“I love to buy ‘hosses’ for $70.00 and watch them go through a Ford—How com’?”

Edna Kumpe
Member of Lee’s Debating Society ’21-’22, Arko-agrian ’23.
Edna has many good qualities, but the best is—being a friend with smiles.
“To know her is to like her.”

John Neal
Russellville, Arkansas
Football ’23, track ’23, Agricola Staff ’23.
John is energetic and industrious, being the youngest member (in age) of the Senior Class. A job is never too big for him to tackle.
“Of all the girls I ever found, there’s none as fine as Vivian.”
Lawrence Nance
Jasper, Arkansas

Lawrence will make good anywhere. He is a good athlete, and a good conversationalist—He should make a good lawyer.
“He's the pal of Miss Pruitt.”

Lila Shoptaw
Russellville, Arkansas

Full-of-pep would be a fitting word. Lila has been a booster for Aggie and the Senior Class, although she, living in town, was not enrolled in all the societies. A bet for anybody.
“She has a winning smile—but who? Oh! Rosco.”

Rosco Roady
Paris, Arkansas

Track ’23, Agricola Staff ’23, Agri. Club ’23, and Lee’s Debating Society ’19 and ’20. Rosco has been one of the biggest boosters of our class, and we regret that this will be his last year. “When a strong brain is weighed with a true heart, it is like balancing a bubble against a wedge of gold.”
Edgar Vaughn
Russellville, Arkansas

Without Edgar our class would have been incomplete.
"A fishing trip with Emory over yonder caused me to have a broken cylinder."

Thelma Braselton
Russellville, Arkansas

Dramatic Club '21, and Lee's Debating Society '21-'22.

Thelma is an inspiration to any class. She is one of the best students in school. Though red-headed, she retains her humor.

"Oh! Why can it not be that I can not make my wish of thee?"

Harold Tyler
Eleven Point, Arkansas

Track '23, Lee's Debating Society '21 and '22, Arko-agrian Society '23, and Declamation Contest '22.

His contemporaries cannot say that he is lazy for he walks, after he visits Little Rock. A prompt and attentive student was he.

"Oft in my vision of youth, when life clouds are sailing
I vision a walk's the truth from Aggie to Mrs. Howard's unavailing."
Last Will and Testament
of the Senior Class of 1923
Second District Agricultural School

Know All Men By These Presents:

That we, the dignified illustrious Seniors of the Class of 1923 in the Second District Agricultural School, in the city of Russellville, County of Pope, State of Arkansas, being of sound mind and body as well as can be expected after carrying five straights, five days in the week, along with the afternoon practical work in the laboratories, shop and field, do hereby publish this our last will and testament in which we bequeath to the following heirs:

First. To the Seniors of 1924 as our immediate successors and to all other classes as overseers we leave the Agricola. Our desire is that they will issue this annually and shall preserve the high standards set by their illustrious predecessors.

Second. To Mr. Hugh Critz, our beloved president, guide and mentor, we do hereby bequeath the preservation of all our wonderful records and credits and request that he show them in the years to follow to all lagging Senior Classes so that they may see what has been accomplished by the Class of '23 and may be guided by their shining example.

To our noble president, Hugh Critz, we leave all the best wishes for a greater and better Agricultural College.
Third. To our peppy and enthusiastic Dean, Mr. G. R. Tur­rentine, we leave G. W. Hamm's oratorical ability to be dealt out in small parcels next year to Nathan Walton.

Fourth. To Mr. W. B. ("Uncle Bert") Casey, we do hereby bequeath Oral McLlroy's membership in the Matrimonial Bureau with the hope that it will bring him as good returns on River Street, City of Russellville, State of Arkansas, as it did O. H. on Oak Street, same city, same state.

Fifth. To Mr. E. S. Tomlinson, familiarly known as "Mr. Tommy," we do hereby leave Sam Russell's ability to steer clear of the ladies if he wishes to sleep peacefully, live tranquilly, and die and old bachelor.

Sixth. To Mr. John G. Buerkle, we leave an inch of stature from each Senior in the class with the exception of Hilda Clark and Gillespie Critz and also bequeath to him Fred Hill's even temper to be put into use immediately, if not sooner.

Seventh. To Mr. D. L. Weldon we leave his present position of Official Chaperon on the afternoons he has off. We also leave to him his present good fellowship and popularity with the student body.

Eighth. To Mr. J. B. Stevenson the right to tell jokes to the Science classes as follows: Woodpeckers pecks, and New Society.

Ninth. To Dr. Alderman we leave all the flannel nighties and caps so that he may keep himself warm these cold nights.

Tenth. To Miss Edna Hood the right to draw comical pictures of the faculty and the student body.

Eleventh. To Mrs. Maria Johnson we leave the right to chaperon all the "chickens" on the campus.

Twelfth. To Mr. R. D. Candle the right to concoct foul smelling gases in the chemical laboratory.
Thirteenth. To Miss Nora Brown the right to assume any position she likes while leading yells.

Fourteenth. To Coach E. O. Brown the right to make announcements to the hopsidoodles about wearing civilian shoes on the basketball court.

Fifteenth. To Mr. J. S. McBee the sole right to wear a bow tie to farm work and to have all the briar patches and ditch banks cleaned.

Sixteenth. To Miss Halbrook to have the right to serve the "Nation" as long as she likes with the special privilege of quitting when she pleases.

Seventeenth. To Miss Bryan the right to wear bobbed hair even though a member of the faculty.

Eighteenth. To Mr. Williamson the sole right to organize a saxophone band with the special privilege of playing pranks on Dr. Alderman.

Nineteenth. To Mrs. Schultz the right to tell the various Domestic Science classes what a good cook her husband, Mr. Schulz, is.

Twentieth. To Miss Mildred Shoptaw the right to hold a private conference with Mr. Tommy any hour in the day.

Twenty-First. To Mr. H. W. Dean the sole right to use the electric lights as slot machines.

Twenty-Second. To Mr. Stewart the right to ride in a certain Ford Coupe on the campus any time he may be invited.

Twenty-Third. To Mr. Dyer the right to make announcements concerning Orcharding after the last bugle has blown.

Twenty-Four. To Mr. Smith the right to continue serving slum and beans to the future students that may enter the institution.
Twenty-Fifth. To W. O. Young the right to stay the President’s Secretary and to start a sinking fund by collecting from the slow-un’s.

Twenty-Sixth. To Miss Norris the right to look pleasing after one of her pupils has made a mistake in Chapel.

ITEM. We give and bequeath to the Freshman Class a large pail of unused “brain glue,” to be used by them carefully and persistently while preparing their lessons, hoping that this wonderful compound, for which we have nothing but words of praise, will aid them in fastening historical data and other dry matter in their minds without too much exertion.

ITEM. In order to show our good will toward the Sophomores we bequeath to them a copy of an “Old Farmer’s Almanac” which will help them to steer clear of many an approaching storm. It will enable them quickly and surely to read in their instructor’s countenance, as he enters the classroom what will be the nature and conditions of movements through the day. In the words of Goldsmith, it will “the boding tremblers learn to trace the day’s disaster in her morning face.”

ITEM. We bequeath to this noble institution of learning all the cash we shall have left at the end of our career which we trust, will aid the Trustees to reimburse the school of any damage we may have done to this edifice.

WITNESS: Katherine Booe, N. P.

WITNESS: G. W. Hamm, Lawyer.
Class History

In the 1922-23 publication of our annual, first of all, we wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to the teachers of the different departments for what they have done for us.

This year we have thirty well-equipped young men and women who are members on the graduating roll. These students have been loyal to Aggie from the day they entered the institution. They have very faithfully and persistently followed the outline and instructions presented them throughout the four years of attendance.

I shall not attempt to record facts from each and every one’s infancy, but from their lives as school boys and girls at Aggie I shall attempt to show ‘em up.

We shall refer to our class president, O. H. McIlroy, an energetic high-minded, industrious young man who came to us from Ozark, Ark. He is one of Uncle Sam’s men who has the respect of all who know him. He has set for our class a high standard and has shown excellent skill in the performance of the duties that have been intrusted to his care, thereby rendering almost unestimable service to us. I speak the sentiment of the entire student body and faculty when I say that “we hate to see him go”. He visited many parts of the globe while in service for Uncle Sam.

Our Vice-President, G. W. Hamm, who came to us from Newton County in 1916, is very highly esteemed by the entire student body, and faculty as well. He is connected with all social affairs. He has never failed during his four years stay at S. D. A. to put forth his best efforts at all times for the up-building of our class and school.

Among other distinguished members of our class is Miss Beulah Thompson, Secretary and Treasurer. Miss Thompson has labored hard this year to keep all reports and condition of our class in good condition so that we might have the best class in the history of Aggie.

I should like very much to give you a complete history of each individual, but space is limited and I shall take up, in a general way, the building of our class as it occurred.

We felt that a complete knowledge of banding school activities were ours. For instance in the fall of 1918 were found at the Secretary's office, fat Beulah and strong Hilda. Following Misses Thompson and Clark came myself. It was a sad event for me when I stacked my "play-preties," packed my knee pants and blouse waist and boarded a train for Russellville. When the bugle tooted on a clear morning in the fall of 1919 we all cheerfully assembled in chapel hall. We were all happy and prepared to face the task that was before us during the coming year. While in chapel hall we were given a flowery welcome by our wonderful President, Hugh Critz. After we had sung "Old Mac Donald," announcements were made, our patience was disturbed by complicated "DONT'S", but in a short time we reported to the classification committee and after much hesitation and careful consultation, the course of study for our class was selected. In this enrollment we were fortunate to find such spirited and talented students as Clarence Griffin, Elmer Hamm, Ruth Shoptaw, Edna Kumpa, Thelma Braselton, Roscoe Roady, Imogene West, and Norman Whaley, and many others who are not members of our class this year.

Everything moved in good form from first year. At the end of the session some remained at Aggie for their vacation, while others departed for their respective homes.
When we returned for the Sophomore year, we felt our importance, and how amusing it was to see us gather at the main entrance of the administration building and meet the new students who had desired to join our jolly band. In the crowd we found Edward Ramey, Archie Coats, Earl Coats, Harrold Tylar, Burl Webb and O. H. McIlroy, who became staunch members of our class.

After being instructed by the president and becoming familiar with the rules and regulations of the institution we settled down for real work. During this year we had a hard task. There were several problems that confronted us which seemed almost impossible for us to solve; but with the "never surrender spirit," were victorious and made our grades.

During the Junior year we had the same old enrollment. During this we labored hard to prepare ourselves for the efficient seniors of '22 and '23.

When our class met in the fall of 1922 we found that eleven new members had entered, namely: Kathryn Booe, Fred Hill, Sam Russell, John Neal, Ralph Robertson, Holivey Smith, Lawrence Nance, Lila Shoptaw, Myrtle McIlroy, L. W. Philips, and Bryan Moore.

The Annual staff was elected and at once began work on the Agricola. After this we had little time for our meetings.

Arch Bewley
Russellville, Arkansas
Archie has attained much in both sports and studies. He’s a lover of singing—I guess.

Bonnie Reasoner
Russellville, Arkansas
Dramatic Club, Basketball.
Bonnie graduated from this school with the class of ’21. But she heard the call for College Students and honored us with her presence.

John Walker
Scranton, Arkansas
Agrl Club, Arko-agrian Society, Band.
John came to us from Scranton, Ark. He graduated with the class of ’21.

Hazel Winn
Russellville, Arkansas
Hazel is a R. H. S. graduate and is very popular with the Aggie students. A lightning-bug attache.

Enoch Young
Ozark, Arkansas
Enoch first won his name in the Hall of Fame playing ball with the second football squadron.
Elmer Hamm "Unk"
Bass, Arkansas
Vice President Arko-agrian Literary Society, Glee Club, Choir, Agricultural Club, Football '21 and '22.
After serving Uncle Sam overseas, he came here to prepare himself for citizenship of Arkansas.

Faye Rogers
Paris, Arkansas
Faye is little but loud in making friends and spreading sunshine. She was not content with one "power", but wanted "Powers".

James A. Myover
Shirley, Arkansas
President Senior Class '22, President Lee's Debating Society '22, Band, Choir, Glee Club, Football '21 and '22, President College Class and President of Periclean Literary Society.
"Jimmie" is one of the old "gang".

Irene King
Pottsville, Arkansas
Secretary Dramatic Club, Corresponding Secretary Arko-agrian Literary Society, Secretary College Class.
An organization is not complete without Irene.

Frank Stanley
Fort Smith, Arkansas
Football '20-'21-'22, Track '22, Agricola Staff '22, Lee's Debating Society '22.
"Slats" was popular with everyone — especially the fairer sex.
O. H. McLlroy
Cass, Arkansas
Football '21-'22, Track '22-'23, Senior President '22-'23, Junior President '21-'22, Declamation Contest '22-'23, Arko-agrian Society '23, Editor-in-Chief of the Agricola '23.
"I don't know that question, Mr. Casey, I was working on the Annual last night."

Ruth Shoptaw
Russellville, Arkansas
A womanly woman cannot be found, her creed is to do right.

G. W. Hamm
Bass, Arkansas
Football '19-'20-'21-'22, Track '21-'22, Choir, Glee Club, Declamation Contest (winner 2nd), Perselian Society, Senior Vice President '23, and Assistant Business Manager and Editor of the Agricola '23, All-State Football '22.
"A smile of jewels his countenance wears."

Lila Shoptaw
Russellville, Arkansas
Lila was "Sir Autrey's" best friend, and was always willing to do her part in???
—in Physics Lab. "Laugh and everything will laugh with you," was her motto.

Ewing Ward
Calico Rock, Arkansas
Ewing was a man of visionary ideals and worked to make them a concrete thing.
"A donkey-smasher" was he.
Jim White
Charleston, Arkansas
Jimmie's first year with us and it has been pleasant. Jim's our mile-run demon.

James Lathrop
Agriculture Club, and Arko-ag-ri-an Society.
Public Speaking is his knack—maybe?? As flirty as the ships of Arctic Ocean.

Monta Nixon
Ozark, Arkansas
Football (2nd) '22.
A smile a face is his slogan. Monta has a smile on his face always. He was very popular with the fair sex—especially in town.

Noel Jones
Scranton, Arkansas
Arko-ag-ri-an Literary Society, Band, Orchestra.
Noel finished here in '21 and attended the University one year. But, being a loyal "Aggie," he returned when our College Course was added.

George W. Stokes
Blue Mountain, Ark.
Lee's Debating Society '22, Football '20-'21-'22, Track '20-'21-'22-'23, Agriculture Club.
George is one you can depend on even if he has to ride a "Bike". Ask the lady that wears his sweater???
Lavan Shoptaw
Dover, Arkansas

Van has been one of our best students this year and has in our opinion crowned even his own brilliant record as a student.

Fred Allbright
Plainview, Ark.
Basketball '23, Arko-agrian Society, and Track '23.

Fred is one of our best track men. He makes good at most everything.

Henry S. Cone
Agriculture Club, Periclean Literary Society, and Track '23.

"Let me see beyond the vale"—and he does. Henry has made a commendable record at Aggie.

Emory Farris
Cato, Arkansas

Emory was our wireless wizard and expert. He was apt and willing to do his share. Especially fond of driving a certain Ford. (?)

Henry Hamilton
"Peck"
Little Rock, Arkansas
Periclean Literary Society, Football '22.

Henry is an ardent believer in outdoor exercises. We are proud to have him in our rank.
Denton Powers

Fort Smith, Arkansas
President Lee Debating Society (3rd term) '21, Football '19-'20-'21-'22, Track '20-'21-'22-'23, Athletic Editor Agricola, Periclean Literary Society, Agric. Club.

It has been said, "Best things are put up in small packages." Denton is a fair sample.

Fay Moore
Paris, Arkansas
Dramatic Club.

Fay is a good student, quite the alert, and has made Aggie a better school by her presence.

Carroll Jones "Cap"
Abbot, Arkansas
Periclean Literary Society, Treasurer Agriculture Club, Football '19-'20-'21-'22, Track '19-'20-'21-'22.

"Cap" has been with us so long we don't distinctly remember when he did join our ranks. He finished in '21 but was with us part of last year and all of this year.

Thelma Hines
Russellville, Arkansas
A Domestic Science fiend or a lover of eats. Thelma is a friend of all; a graduate of Russellville High, and an Aggie booster.

Clark Reasoner
Russellville, Arkansas
Periclean Literary Society, Secretary Agriculture Club, Football '21-'22, Baseball.

He graduated with the class of '21. "Fatty" is an athlete, an orator and a humorist by birth.
Snowden Arrington
Ozark, Arkansas
Band, Orchestra and Baseball.
Jim Hugh's 18-year-old brother (Atkins Chronicle). Snowden is an all-round student and athlete.

Margaret Sibley
Russellville, Arkansas
Thursday afternoon D. S. "goal". Her dark beauty has caused the heart of many a gallant Aggie stripping to flutter.

Autrey Newman
“Sir Autrey”
Scranton, Arkansas
Debating Team '22, 2nd Team Football '22, Arko-agrian Literary Society. "Sir Autrey's" hobby is Chemistry and Debating.

Maude McIlroy
Eleven Point, Arkansas
Maude excels in Home Economics. Everything she does is reliable, faithful and trustworthy.

Jim Hugh Arrington
Ozark, Arkansas
Second Football '22, Track '23, and Band.
Jim Hugh was a good student and an A-1 ladies' man. Also a good friend of Esther's.
Overton Saddler
Paris, Arkansas
Arko-agrian Literary Society.
"If Rome is burning, let it burn, if it means that I have to hurry."

Dennis Rose
Russellville, Arkansas
Agriculture Club, Arko-agrian Literary Society, Band, Orchestra.
Dennis finished this school with the class of ’20. But when the College Course was added this year he again caught the “Aggie Spirit.”

Ernest Cheatham
Mt. Judea, Arkansas
Vice President Periclean Literary Society, Agricultural Club.
“When I rise to speak, let all ears be inclined to listen.”

Harold Crum
Arko-agrian Literary Society and Agricultural Club.
A “trig” fiend. Harold was one of the foremost college students.

Ishmael Jones
Pottsville, Arkansas
Second Football ’22, Basketball ’23.
“Galla” was some duck hunter and was one of the State’s best basket-ball players.
Ellis E. Lauhon "Rip"
Ozark, Arkansas
Vice President Lee Debating Society (1st term) '21, Football '18-'20-'21-'22, Basketball '20 and '21, Track '20-'21-'22-'23, President Arko-agrian Literary Society.
For lo, these many years "RIP" has been a faithful "Aggie".

Veda Vaughn
Russellville, Arkansas
Arko-agrian Literary Society, Basketball '22-'23, Glee Club, Choir.
Veda is ever ready and willing to do her part in all school activities. She is a "jolly good student."

Roy A. Nolan
Charleston, Arkansas
Vice President Senior Class '22, Vice President Lee Debating Society '20, Periclean Literary Society, Agricultural Club.
Roy withdrew from "Aggie" in 1917 and joined the U. S. N. He returned in 1919 showing signs of having fought the battle of "Champagne".

Beulah Thompson
Russellville, Arkansas
Secretary Arko-agrian Society, Secretary of Senior Class '23.
Quiet, confident and smiling—no better compliment can be paid her. Beulah is a true blue Aggie, and is for everything that's Aggie's.

Louis Hood
Russellville, Arkansas
Second Football team '22, Track Team '23.
When Paul Thompson left "Boog" became High Chief Yodeler and Mimicker of Aggie.
College History

The college course is a two-year course patterned after the first and second year courses at Mississippi A. & M. College. It was placed on the curriculum because some fifty high school graduates were confronted with the question: How are we to secure a higher education, when our financial side looks very, very gloomy.

The answer was: Mr. Critz, who seemingly undertook the unsurmountable hazard of placing such a course upon the Aggie curriculum.

We have as good, if not the best chemistry laboratory in the state, and the laboratories of the other departments of this course will favorably compare with that of any other college in the South.

At the beginning of this school year, some thirty-odd high school graduates assembled under the ban of college aspirants, but to their surprise a course was being offered that would grant entrance to any college. And a few days from then the number was increased until some seventy-five students have their names inscribed on its scroll. —O. H. M.

Varnell Overby
Secretary and Treasurer
Bunyan Sands
Charleston, Arkansas
Bunyan is one of the most consistent workers in the Junior Class. He has made good in everything that he has attempted.

Estelle Gill
Little Rock, Arkansas
Estelle is a member of the Arko-agrian Society, Choir, Glee Club and Basket Ball Team. She is always willing to share responsibilities and duties.

G. E. Cheatham
Clinton, Arkansas
G. E. hails from Tennessee, but stays about Clinton so much that he’s from there. Due to his enthusiasm and pep he has endeared himself to Aggie and a bright future cannot fail to lie in his pathway.

Bonnie Danley
Russellville, Arkansas
Bonnie has made a splendid student. She has been with the class for some few years and will always remain endeared to Aggieville.

Euel Long
Little Rock, Arkansas
Euel partakes in most all of the musical performances. He has been with Aggie for two years and the Senior Class of ’24 will have a splendid representative in him.

Varnell Overby
Lamar, Arkansas
She was chosen Secretary and Treasurer of the Junior Class. Varnell is one of the most popular girls in her Class, although this is her first year.
Sam White
Stafford, Arkansas

"Stony" was always found on the scene of action. Throughout the football season he was always found at practice time on the grid-iron. Though too small to make the team, he helped to make it.

Richard Hill
South Bend, Arkansas

The Senior Class next year will be fortunate to have him as a member.

Lee Hall
Danville, Arkansas

Lee is a genius in English and Ansom's friend. He has made a lasting impression on Aggieville.

Iris Johnson
Lamar, Arkansas

This is Iris' second year. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, and has many splendid qualities which will lead her to a bright future.

Howard Burton

Howard is one of the best students that Aggie ever had, and has shown himself to be a leader among men.

Murrel Eikleberry
Blaine, Arkansas

Though red-headed, he has surmounted the ladder round by round and is always on the job.
Stanley Richmond
Though not one of the oldest members in school—a record he has made.

Velma McNeal
Nimrod, Arkansas
Velma has been one of Aggie's best students. We are sure she will make good regardless of where her lot may take her.

Love Graham
Huntington, Arkansas
Love has fought hard on the grid-iron, and he also made an excellent student.

Margaret (Guest) Howie
Russellville, Arkansas
She had a marked degree of success at whatever she attempted—but, I'm afraid she has a job now.

Cecil Powers
Fort Smith, Arkansas
He was chosen vice president of the Junior Class. Cecil's ambition was to be a friend to everyone.

Cecil Stanford
Russellville, Arkansas
One of the peppiest girls that ever played on the girl's basketball court. Small, but peppy.
Sam White
Stafford, Arkansas

“Stony” was always found on the scene of action. Throughout the football season he was always found at practice time on the grid-iron. Though too small to make the team, he helped to make it.

Richard Hill
South Bend, Arkansas

The Senior Class next year will be fortunate to have him as a member.

Lee Hall
Danville, Arkansas

Lee is a genius in English and Ansom's friend. He has made a lasting impression on Aggieville.

Howard Burton

Howard is one of the best students that Aggie ever had, and has shown himself to be a leader among men.

Murrel Eikleberry
Blaine, Arkansas

Though red-headed, he has surmounted the ladder round by round and is always on the job.
Hayes McClanahan
Havana, Arkansas
President of the Juniors, member of '21 and '22 football team, and by his consistency in the classroom has made Hayes one of the most popular students at Aggie.

Lucile Hogins
Russellville, Arkansas
Class Historian is only an introduction to her abilities, for she is one of the highest standing pupils in school in class work and deportment.

Bunyan Webb
Russellville, Arkansas

Pat Hamm
Bass, Arkansas
Pat has shown a wonderful spirit, and has numerous talents which he wisely is using. Being a member of the Little Wonder Football Team and a member of nearly every other organization at Aggie.

Helen Pruett
Jasper, Arkansas
Helen is a new member of the class, but by her musical talents and graceful smiles has endeared herself with Aggie and Aggies.

Joe Bishop
Clinton, Arkansas
Joe, the boy of refinement and kindness, is one of Aggie's jewels of rare qualities. He is a member of the Prician Literary Society. The Senior Class would profit much next year to have him as a member.
Eugene Callins
Branch, Arkansas
A first-class student and an A-1 athlete, is this Franklin County boy.

Okla Dollar
Russellville, Arkansas
Okla has an admirable disposition and always has a host of friends.

Harold Spicer
Scranton, Arkansas
Harold has been with us for some time and by his deportment has made a place in the hearts of "Old Aggie".

Harold Ganner
Russellville, Arkansas
Harold is one of the strongest boosters that has ever graced the halls of "Aggie" and a two-year football letter man.

Trumann Williams
Ozark, Arkansas
Another representative of Franklin County. He has made a good record and was a strong contestant in the Declamation Contest.

Inera McKenzie
Centerville, Arkansas
She was a member of the Girls' Basketball Team, and with her wonderful ability she can accomplish any task that shall come her way.
Clarence Capps
This is the first year for Clarence, but he proved by his presence the first day he entered that he had the Aggie spirit—the spirit that will win in most cases.

Marion Dickens
Bigelow, Arkansas
Marion has proved to be an Agri-culturist of the first rank and hope that he will be a Senior next year.

Rogers Gray
Rogers’ face is an Aggie asset, because he has proved by his consistent work that he will be a success.

Howard Patterson
Russellville, Arkansas
Howard was fortunate in living so close to Aggie, and we were fortunate in his doing so.

Anson Aikman
For the past three years Anson has made a splendid student for Aggie, and always has a smile left.

Sellers Wells
Maysville, Arkansas
He is noted for his musical abilities, and is in constant demand at the various churches in town. Success will be the end of his efforts.

Garland Russell
Russellville, Arkansas
Garland has shown a great interest in the livestock work, and with his PUSH he will win.

Reid Perkins
Blue Ball, Arkansas
Reid has made one of Aggie’s best students. Success will be his reward.

Mayo Reed
Bigelow, Arkansas
This is his first year at Aggie and since we know that he has the true Aggie spirit we are sure he will make a good representative for his class.

Hugh Buzbee
Hugh has been with Aggie since 1919 and has made good each year. He always looks on the bright side of life, and we are pulling for him to be with us again next year.

Sophomore History

THE BUMBLE-BEES, under the auspicious leadership of their navigator, C. B. C. (feets), have made a commendable record this year; we have placed a few members on the "Little Wonders"; we have been represented in the Declamation Contest; we have members in practically all school organizations, and have enough will power left (which manipulates our mind with such complacency and regularity, once a week) to teach our brain that we are far superior to the Freshmen.

Our organization hasn't lost but a few members from its roll since we started as Subbies two years ago. We have placed an opponent in every encounter, and hope that the preponderance of our symbol will be regarded with awe and admiration in '24.

Vocational Men

The Vocational men constitute one-fifth of Aggie's school roll and are, therefore, an important cog in the institution's being. Their school affairs are aptly cared for by Mr. Oates for the government and by Prof. Critz for the institution. Although some of the men have been out of school for some time, they almost without exception apply themselves to their respective duties and work as hard or harder than the other students.

Three trophies—school trophies will be a larger number than those of the combined student body. They hit the line as hard in school as they did on the Argonne, or Meuse, Chateau Thiery, Moselle, Belleau Woods or St. Mihiel.

Ten Timely Thoughts for 1923

To make your dreams come true—wake up.
What you see depends upon what you look for.
Good resolutions often slip for lack of sand.
Live your life today—not tomorrow.
Procrastination makes hard times out of nothing.
Kill time and you will mourn the corpse.
Tomorrow is the happiest day in one’s life.
Time hangs heavy to the man without a hobby.
Do this year what you wish you had done last.
Time makes no round trips.

Good Quotations

The balance wheel of business is punctuality.
Those always in a hurry are usually late.
What you do when you have nothing to do is what counts.
Doing more than the average keeps the average up.
Those who stay near the bottom of the ladder haven’t far to fall.
You do less than you should unless you do all you can.
Better look forward and prepare than backward and regret.
If you think “It can’t be done,” you are right.
Profit follows promptness, regret follows delay.

Music Department

The aim of the Department of Music is to be of vital value in the life of every student. The department strives to create and foster a love and appreciation for the best in music. Students enrolled in the department participate in the musical contributions to the public programs of the college, and such participation is a part of their training and duty.

For those wishing to prepare themselves for public school music a curriculum has been prepared, and to those who satisfactorily complete this curriculum a State Certificate is granted.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

Every voice and each instrument has a distinct function in the science of tonal expression, and only in the combination of voices are the finest effects in the coloring of melody, harmony and rhythm reproduced. This combination is made possible in the Department of Music by the number of students enrolled in the college, and by the variety of ensemble organizations.

The Male Glee Club consists of eighteen of the best men's voices in the institution. The try-out for this singing body is held the first of every term. Part songs, glee's, and sacred music are studied and presented publicly on college programs.

The Girls' Glee Club is a singing organization. They study Glee's, Madrigals, etc., and belong to the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The Choir consists of eighteen young ladies and gentlemen. They study sacred music and sing in the devotional services, which are given every Sunday afternoon. They meet for rehearsal three times weekly.

The Dramatic Club was organized December the third, nineteen hundred-twenty-two. The purpose of this club is to give its members training in expression and a knowledge of parliamentary law. Each member is given one period a week for expression and one for physical culture. The first big social event of the school was given by the Dramatic Club. This club meets every other Tuesday after four o'clock, and under the direction of Miss Nora Brown, has accomplished its purpose.

Department of Animal Husbandry

The Department of Animal Husbandry gives instruction in all lines of practical and theoretical work which deal with judging, selecting, breeding, feeding, development, care and management of the various market and breed types of farm animals. The livestock industry in Arkansas is one of the most important industries in the state, and for this reason the department is attempting to supply adequate instruction to meet the demands for work of this character.

The equipment in the form of flocks and herds, barns and outbuildings, land and lots make up the laboratories for this department. A steady improvement in the livestock is being made.

Breeding, feeding and management are important courses of the instruction. Livestock management is one of the principal courses on the schedule. Students are taught that good management is more necessary than theories and fancies.

The main aims of the work given the student is to train him to meet and cope with the problems of the livestock industry. A combination of technical training and practical experience works well in making the fit man.

The beef cattle section of the Animal Husbandry Department is represented by three breeds: Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus. Good representations of each breed are maintained, and the course of study is so arranged as to give the student practical instruction in selecting, feeding, breeding, care and management of these animals.

The livestock equipment in the dairy section consists of registered Jersey and Holstein cows of high quality. Some of them produce as much milk and butterfat as any in the state. Daily and yearly records are kept in every case.

The collection of swine outnumbers that of any other section of the Animal Husbandry Department. The two leading breeds represented are the Duroc Jersey and the Poland China. There are more Duroc Jersey than any other breed. About fifty grade hogs are used, mainly for experimental purposes and for the utilization of waste products from the college dining hall.

A Brief of Our Work

We started this year's annual without one penny in our treasury, and the scant remembrance of what was done the previous year.

The staff had the good fellowship of all the faculty and student body; and the very, very apt and striving Seniors to help push this annual to a success. The Managing Staff did all the selling of ads, the sale of practically all the annuals, the compiling of most all of the material, the asking of three hundred questions to ones who were supposed to turn a copy in, getting all the photographs, grouping of all the photos, raising the couple odd thousand dollars, and doing all of this and being a Senior. We offer this as a suggestion to the body of students that are to put the annual out in nineteen twenty-four, that we would suggest that the upper classmen do the work, as a Senior has not the time to do the work thoroughly and efficiently. The putting out of an annual requires more time when it is divisioned off under different departments than the class-room work does.

We have no excuse to offer; no apologies to make. We have set up in the wee hours of the night and have passed many opportunities of pleasure in doing what we have done.

We again ask that upon the beginning of the next school year, a committee be appointed and a thorough investigation be made before beginning the annual. Also, we suggest that a member of the faculty be on that said committee.

Prior to the present school year there has been at various times in the history of our school different literary societies. None of these organizations were lasting in their nature and after a short period of duration they all ceased to exist. This year, in spite of a late start, we have organized two enthusiastic and progressive literary societies, with a friendly feeling of rivalry that insures a long and useful existence.

The Periclean Society was organized during the month of January, 1923, by a group of boys and girls who were ambitious of attaining a higher degree of excellence in speaking and expressing their thoughts clearly in public. Each one has been benefited greatly by taking part in our society and all have enjoyed our interesting programs. We have only about thirty-five members but we make up in intensity of purpose what we lack in numbers. Our purpose is to put our society on a firm basis so that it will be a permanent part of our school. We feel that we have accomplished this task and predict that the Periclean Literary Society will serve future students as it has present members.

Mechanics

The purpose of the Mechanical Department is to enable the student to obtain some knowledge of the fundamental principles upon which modern mechanics is based.

The first two years of the course in this department are devoted to practical work of a more or less general nature along mechanical lines, a working knowledge of which is essential for the more technical courses which follow.

The junior year offers courses in both forge work and advanced woodwork. The woodwork consists of the use of the band saw, jointer, and turning-lathes along with instructions as to the use of different wood dressings and stains.

Drafting being a very essential factor in the construction and manipulation of all mechanical devices, is also required in the Junior year. This course gives the student a knowledge of the use and care of various drawing instruments.

In the Senior year the student’s instruction is in the care and repairing of different motive devices, such as tractors, gas engines, and other machinery which he will likely have occasion to use.

In connection with an outlined course of study and working periods, practical methods are used in the repairing of buildings, machinery and other equipment belonging to the institution. These include masonry, the practical uses of electricity, such as house-wiring, transformer connections, etc., also steam fitting and plumbing are taught. In this way the student obtains a practical knowledge of different mechanical and electrical devices and appliances, as well as a foundation for a more technical course of study.

ARKO-AGRIAN

The Arko-agrian Society is composed of boys and girls who wish to develop their talents and individuality along literary and social lines. However, the primary object of the society is to encourage and foster the art of public speaking, debating and to increase the individual member’s knowledge of parliamentary law.

The A. A. is the oldest and largest organization of its kind, connected with the S. D. A.
Declamation Contest

This contest is available to any student in the school. The only requirement being that the declamation that is to be delivered must be an oration. Also, that only once can a certain oration be delivered.

The purpose of this course is to accustom the declaimer in speaking before an audience. The results so far obtained have been invaluable to each contestant, and within this circle of declaimers of today will be found some of Arkansas' best orators and spokesmen tomorrow.

There are three preliminaries and one final contest in each school year. The final is participated in by winners and runner-ups. The winners of the first two preliminaries were G. W. Hamm and Norman Whaley; the runner-ups were Joe Bishop and O. H. McIlroy.

A five dollar gold piece is given by the president (Hugh Critz) to the winner. The judges are selected from the men whose vocation is speaking; the grading is done by placing method, and graded according to stage appearance, delivery, enunciation and elocution.

This is the second year that this contest has been held and it is becoming one of the features of the school, and the final contest an attraction for commencement.
Prize Winners
Science

The department of Science in the Second District Agricultural School is one of the most important in the curricula. The wide range of subjects treated and the practical turn given them makes this field especially fascinating.

The first year's course is not confined to any one field but is made basic to the study of other branches. The subjects of Physiography, Physiology, Biology and other things basic to courses to come later are especially emphasized. It gives the student that general knowledge of common things which every person ought to know besides preparing him for subsequent work in pure or applied science. Laboratory work is given in connection with the text so that the student will become familiar with the most common laboratory equipment.

Chemistry, Sophomore. This is an introductory course to chemistry. The first part of the course deals with the fundamental laws which govern chemical reactions, solutions of sufficient number of problems to enable the student to thoroughly understand the calculations and principles to which they are related. The latter part of the course deals with the chemistry of metals. Attention is given to many of the processes by which many of the facts of chemistry are applied.

In addition to the five hours per week given to this subject, four hours are given to laboratory work where the chemical changes actually take place and their facts indelibly impressed upon the mind.

The Third Year's work is given to a study of the metals and the common reaction and qualitative analyses. This work furnishes the greatest opportunity for inductive reasoning.

Senior. This includes a study of the general principles of phenomena of physics.

ADVANCED WORK is given in general inorganic chemistry with an intensive laboratory course, for the first year.

SECOND YEAR work deals with quantitative analysis which enables the student to correlate theory and practice.
